

Accounting Program

The accounting major provides students with a solid educational foundation for entry into professional careers in accounting-related areas of business and government. The program prepares students to pursue advanced education in accounting and related fields. In addition to reviewing the requirements listed here, visit the School of Accounting website, Undergraduate Programs, for additional information, including information on becoming a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) or obtaining other certifications such as CMA, CIA, CISA, CGFM, or CFE.

Accounting Required Courses

A minimum of 120 credit hours are required for the degree. Other administrative requirements will be needed; see the University Catalog for detailed requirements.
