Businesses survive and thrive under effective management and insightful leadership. Managers in today's competitive market oversee a diverse workforce and must master crucial skills for adapting to continual change while increasing productivity and advancing their organizations.

FAU's Management and Leadership programs can help develop new strategies for training, leading and motivating individuals and teams, improve communication and decision-making, maximize opportunities, and effectively manage crisis, conflict and change.

Redefining Leadership

"The workplace itself will continue evolving in 2022. Artificial intelligence and HR technology disruptions will remain constant. As companies decide their long-term remote and hybrid work policies and the workforce continues to evolve, HR must help redefine the qualities needed to lead in these changing circumstances.

In digital environments, managers will need to facilitate work and support employees without micromanaging them. In performance management conversations, for example, managers should be able to help facilitate work while staying alert to signs of burnout.

'Soft' skills such as emotional intelligence will be important to seek out and foster in future leadership candidates."*

Kristopher Moody began his journey to earn his Certified Financial Planner™ (CFP®) as a newly hired advisor at Baron, Silver and Stevens in 2011 with a goal of becoming a better financial advisor for his clients.

Kristopher is a dedicated financial educator helping his clients towards "financial independence." Once a student, he is now also a passionate instructor for FAU, bringing over a decade of expertise and experience to teaching the Financial and Estate Planning courses and guest speaking in personal finance classes.

The CFP is a rigorous seven (7) course certification requiring holders to have financial planning experience and to adhere to a strict ethical and fiduciary standard: to always act in the best interests of their clients!

Kristopher generously shared with us his insights on the value of the CFP® and his reason for choosing FAU:

WHY EARN A CFP?

Having the CFP certification, the standard of excellence in financial planning services, is now almost a requirement if you want to be successful in the financial services industry. Clients are more aware of its value and seek out certified advisors.

Understanding the Client's Personal and Financial Circumstances Identifying and Selecting Goals Monitoring Progress and Updating Analyzing the Client's Current Course The 7-Step Financial Potential Planning Process Implementing the Financial Planning Recommendation(s) Developing the Financial Planning Recom-mendation(s) Presenting the Financial Planning Recommendation(s)

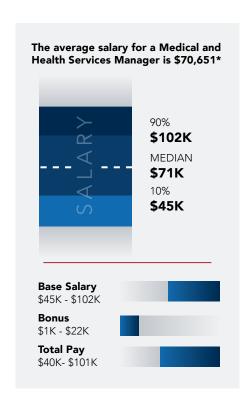

WHY THE CFP® AT FAU?

"After researching many CFP programs, I chose FAU for its hands-on teaching approach and reputation of the instructors – they are experienced industry practitioners sharing real-life scenarios and examples that stick with you more than just reading a book. Courses are structured to encourage group study—I am even still in touch with former classmates—and instructors provide continual support and availability. I felt confident and was prepared to pass the exam."

WELCOME TO THE PROJECT ECONOMY

"Change is as relentless as it is pervasive—from the impact of technologies like artificial intelligence to the clamor for greater social accountability to customers' everevolving expectations.

Organizations that stick with the status quo risk not just treading water, but sinking."

"Organizations are under-going a fundamental paradigm shift in which projects are no longer adjacent to operations but instead primary to how work gets done and problems get solved. In many ways, the organization is the project—led by a variety of titles, executed through a variety of approaches, and focused unwaveringly on delivering financial and societal value. This is...The Project Economy."*

* 2020 Pulse of the Profession®

The Talent Gap: Facts and Figures Project management-oriented employment (PMOE)—which includes skilled project managers and those in less formal project management roles, that encompass project management skills—makes up 3% of all global employment, equating to 90 million jobs. This is expected to grow to 3.2% or 102 million jobs by 2030.

By 2030, at least 13 million project managers are expected to have retired creating additional challenges for recruitment.

To close the gap, 25 million new project professionals are needed by 2030.

I came to accounting on a different path than many students. My undergraduate degree is in History and Studio Art, and I worked a variety of jobs, like a non-profit that built a skateboard park and running my own business, before I decided to go back to school and take accounting courses to be eligible for my CPA license. I worked for a local accounting firm for about 5 years, during which time I passed the CPA exam and got my New Mexico license (and had my second child). I enjoyed my job, but

I started getting a bit bored with the work and knew that a remote job would allow me to keep living in New Mexico while doing more challenging work. I wasn't quite sure how to make that happen until I got connected with my current employer based in CA through an AICPA online job fair. We worked out a remote agreement, and I became their first full-time remote employee! I was working in tax for years, before I looked to pursue my Master's in Taxation degree. I wanted a program I could complete entirely online, and I found FAU's Master of Taxation meets those needs and is affordable. I'm already used to managing my time independently and working remotely, so the program is perfect for me.

Our faculty of professors and industry experts integrate academic research with real life practice; we wrote the textbook on forensic accounting, and many of our practitioners with firsthand experience in active investigative work and expert witness testimony.

Develop a solid skillset in auditing, analysis, dispute resolution, litigation support, valuation, expert testimony, and interviewing.

Dr. Leiner, also known as Sergeant Leiner, supervised Broward Sheriff's Office (BSO) Economic Crimes Unit—one of the largest in the nation at the time—in conducting fraud-related investigations and solving economic crimes. At FAU, he teaches Accounting Fraud Examination Concepts and Interviewing for Forensic Accountants and Auditors and is co-author on the

DR. JAY LEINER, CFE, CFS Co-Director of the Center for Forensic Accounting Training Director, Palm Beach ACFE textbook, Forensic Accounting and Fraud Examination.

Everything we teach is reality based, from how to work fraud and how to conduct interviews to communicating final reports. We stay current on industry trends and topics. Students sharpen their accounting skills alongside investigative abilities to become highly skilled forensic accountants.

DIGITAL ACCOUNTING FORENSICS AND DATA ANALYTICS

Gain a competitive edge by combining your accounting skills with data analytics!

With the big-data revolution, old-fashioned, simple financial analysis tools have been supplanted by more sophisticated techniques and technology. Accounting firms and financially oriented organizations (like FINRA and the SEC) are investing heavily in descriptive, diagnostic, predictive, and prescriptive data analytics and special analytical tools; they need skilled analysts to use them.

Stand out as a professional who can apply digital accounting forensics and data analytics to both hard (financial) data and soft data (e.g., email, social media content, videos, and narrative reports).

PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTING

Tailored to the needs of busy professionals who want to earn their master's degree while working full time. Students gain specialized knowledge and skills with a focus on the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) credential. Those with an undergraduate degree in accounting have the option of completing the program in as few as three semesters.

CPAs work in all sectors of the economy, public accounting, government, and in private companies. FAU's Accounting program is well known and highly respected in the South Florida accounting community, with many firms—from Big 4 to regional and local ones—seeking out FAU students and graduates.

Combine your newly acquired knowledge and skills to launch your accounting career or land your next promotion. Our career support services include a dedicated specialist for resume review and LinkedIn profile and networking advice. Hiring firms recruit directly from our program as well as through career fairs held each semester both in person and virtually.

Tax is a critical aspect in all areas, including inside CPA firms, industry, and government. The Master of Accounting (MAcc) degree with a concentration in Tax takes you far beyond simply filling out tax returns. You will delve into tax strategies and tax planning for wealthy individuals, corporations, and partnerships.

Gain maximum practice flexibility and enhance your year-round value by performing tax work during tax season and conducting audits, consulting, or other work during the rest of the year! You can gain a solid Tax foundation without an undergraduate accounting or business degree required.

Industry experts and tax specialists, many who have worked for the IRS or own their own tax practices, cover important tax topics including Tax Research, International Tax, Corporate Tax, Partnerships Tax, IRS Practices and Procedures as well as areas related to auditing and consulting: Advanced Auditing, Accounting Information Systems, and E-Commerce.

Delray Beach Entrepreneur and First Graduate of FAU's Executive Ph.D. Program

Lotta Collard, founder and CEO of Key Performance LLC in Delray Beach, achieved a milestone in summer 2022 in earning her doctorate degree in business administration. As a student in the very first cohort of FAU's Executive Ph.D. program and its first graduate, Lotta undertook a three-year course study designed with working professionals in mind.

"It is a highly rewarding program, both academically and personally," said Collard, an entrepreneur who lives in Delray Beach and Sweden, where she has a sister company, Key Performance Solutions. "I learned a lot, and it changed the way I think about and approach research in particular and life in general."

For her, the hybrid instruction—attending in person or live online with only two on-campus residencies per semester—accommodated her busy work and travel schedule during the first two years of classes.

During the third year, students select a field for research, and Collard chose economics. Her dissertation focused on "The Effects of Individual-level Knowledge on Firm Performance: An Evolutionary Perspective."

"It is easy to feel a relief to have completed the six straight semesters of course work, but in a sense, that is when the real work begins, and your abilities and your grasp of the concepts are put to the test," she said.

Congratulations, Dr. Collard!
