

FAU Business News

September 2021

MBA Sport Management Climbs in World Rankings

Lead by James Riordan, Ph.D., the MBA Sport Program improved by 11 spots, jumping into the Top 20 rankings from SportBusiness, a London-based global intelligence service.

SEE MBA SPORT'S CLIMB

In Booming Markets, Homebuyers Paying Above Long-Term Pricing Trends

In cities like Austin, Texas, homes selling for more than they should is a worsening problem, according to research from FAU's Ken H. Johnson, Ph.D., and a professor at Florida International Univ. (FIU)

DISCOVER: IS YOUR MARKET OVERPRICED?

FAU Grad and 'Role Model' to Take Helm of Chicago-based Accounting Firm, Grant Thornton

Seth Siegel '96, Accounting, has been appointed CEO-elect of Grant Thornton, a Chicago-based audit, tax and advisory firm.

READ ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

Who Needs a Boss? Study Shows Benefit of Employees Managing Themselves

More U.S. companies would be wise to encourage self-leadership, according to a new study from FAU's Ethlyn A. Williams, Ph.D., Michael B. Harari, Ph.D., Stephanie L. Castro, Ph.D., and Katarina K. Brant, Ph.D.

EXPLORE SELF-LEADERSHIP

Housing Index Makes the Case for Renting in Overheated Market

The latest results from the FAU/FIU Beracha, Hardin & Johnson Buy vs. Rent Index show prices at or near their peaks in Dallas, Denver, Houston, Kansas City, Seattle and Miami.

MORE: SHOULD YOU BUY OR RENT?

Executive Education
Ranking 2020

