Business Leader of the Year

On January 26, 2018 the College of Business honored Colin Brown with the FAU Business Leader of the Year at the Boca Raton Resort & Club. Mr. Brown is chief executive officer of JM Family Enterprises, Inc., a diversified automotive corporation ranked No. 21 on Forbes’ list of “America’s Largest Private Companies.” As CEO, Brown leads the entire organization, including JM Family’s Executive Management Team, which oversees the development and implementation of the company’s objectives and strategies for future growth. Brown also serves as chairman of the company’s board of directors.

Mr. Brown directs all of JM Family’s businesses, Southeast Toyota Distributors, the world’s largest independent distributor of Toyota vehicles; JM&A Group, one of the leading independent providers of finance and insurance products in the automotive industry; World Omni Financial Corp., a diversified financial services company; and JM Lexus.

He joined the family-owned business in 1992 as vice president and general counsel. He was appointed chief operating officer in 1997 and president in 2000. Brown was named CEO in January 2003, becoming the first non-family member to hold the titles of first president and then CEO. In 2017, Brown was appointed chairman of the board while retaining the title of CEO.

Before JM Family, Mr. Brown served as general counsel and a member of the senior management team for two FORTUNE 500 companies. He was senior vice president, general counsel and secretary for Fuqua Industries, Inc. in Atlanta, Ga. and, prior to that, served as senior vice president and general counsel for Cannon Mills Company in North Carolina. He received his initial training as an associate of the Wall Street law firm of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett in New York City.

He graduated from Duke University School of Law with a juris doctorate and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Williams College in Williamstown, Mass. He is on the Board of Advisors for Duke University School of Law and is a board member of the Williams College Alumni Fund. Raised overseas in a Foreign Service family, Brown resides in Lighthouse Point, Fla. and he has three children.

Founded by Jim Moran in 1968, JM Family is a $14.9 billion company ranked No. 55 by FORTUNE® as one of the 100 Best Companies to Work For®, its 19th consecutive year on the list. JM Family has approximately 4,200 associates and is headquartered in Deerfield Beach, Fla. The company also has major U.S. operations in Jacksonville and Margate, Fla.; Commerce and Alpharetta, Ga.; Mobile, Ala.; and St. Louis, Mo.

Major Gifts

Women hold 52% of all the professional jobs in the U.S., yet only 5% of CEOs are women. The Kathleen Brush Women in Leadership Program is a strategic initiative designed to level this ratio by giving participants an opportunity to secure a leadership competitive advantage.

The program focus includes women-specific topics, 21st Century skills, merging hard and soft skills, moving from theory to practice, while adding the indispensable assistance of networks and mentors. The Kathleen Brush Women in Leadership Program is designed specifically for middle managers to help launch them into executive positions. This program was created thanks to Kathleen Brush, PhD, FAU Class of 1980, who contributed $1.35m in 2017 to establish the program.
Points of Pride

Our College has been recognized for numerous accolades, including:

Rankings:

- US News & World Report ranked our online graduate programs in the top 50. This includes our Online MBA at #42 and our Online Graduate Business (Accounting, Finance and Health Administration) Programs at #43 in the nation. US News also ranked us among the best Business Schools for Veterans – top in Florida.
- The Hospitality and Tourism Management program are in the top 30 in two of their specialty national rankings in the USA.
- The Sport Management MBA was ranked #29 in the world and #19 in the USA in the rankings from Sport Business International. We finished ahead of FSU, Texas A&M, NYU, and Arizona State, among others.
- Our Accounting program broke into the top 75 at #59 in the country for publications in the top 25 journals over the last 6 years, according to data published by BYU.
- FAU’s Online Graduate Programs; Executive Master of Health Administration, Executive Master of Accounting, and Executive Master of Tax are ranked within the top 50 (43) best in the nation by U.S. News & World Report in 2018.
- We are also ranked #1 in Florida and #21 Nationwide for Veterans Grad Business Online by U.S. News & World Report in 2018.
- The Professional and Executive MBA was ranked 27th among public universities in the nation by Bloomberg BusinessWeek’s last ranking of part-time MBA programs.
- Our College was named one of the “Best Business Schools” by The Princeton Review and was also ranked as the best business school for veterans in Florida by Military Times.
- The MBA programs in Florida Atlantic University’s College of Business ranked in 2016 fifth in the United States in terms of a student’s return on investment (ROI), with one of the nation’s highest average salary-to-debt ratios after getting a master’s degree, according to new best business school rankings published by SoFi, a San Francisco based marketplace lender.

FAU College of Business and Northwestern University Kellogg School of Business co-hosted the Executive MBA Council’s USA/Southeast regional meeting in Coral Gables, FL, February 2018

Our AACSB continuous improvement review process went well. Our final report was submitted in Fall 2017, and the visiting team came to campus in January 2018. Our accreditation was reaffirmed for another 5 years, with only one concern – that our enrollment has increased by about 1000 students since the last review with only one more tenure-track faculty. (The state graduate excellence funding will help.) This stands in welcome contrast to where we were on the last visit in winter 2013 with the prior administration, when the visiting AACSB team noted multiple problems and put the College on continuing review.
Our Fall 2017 enrollment reached 8106 students total. This keeps FAU in the top 15 largest AACSB accredited Business Schools in the USA.

We grew to over 1100 students in our market rate graduate programs in 2017-18, exceeding our 5-year enrollment goal of 1000 students. We also met the targets outlined in the presentation I gave to our FAU Board of Trustees on market rate programs shortly after I arrived in 2013. For our next opportunity, we evaluated options, and started market-rate programs in Broward at our Davie campus. As of Spring 2018 we had 28 students enrolled in our evening MBA program in Davie. This is financially viable, and we look to grow. We continue to evaluate options, and are looking to expand next with our Masters in Health Administration program in Davie.

Grants were brought in by the Adams Center for Entrepreneurship from Veterans Florida ($85,000) and by the Center for Economic Education ($20,000). Faculty in ITOM and Health Administration were part of several grant proposals that were funded for more than $100,000.

For fourth year in a row, ITOM’s graduate program, MSITM, has had 100% placement of its graduates

High growth of the Graduate and Undergraduate MIS majors (STEM discipline): 100% growth of the graduate MSITM headcount enrollment over the last two years; 82% growth of undergraduate headcount enrollment since 2011.

High number of internship placements in the college (shown per the enrollments in the Internship for credit courses, ISM 4940 and ISM 6942): 19 undergraduate, 19 graduate internships, out of which 15 full time conversions.

2017 State data identified MIS as a top 6 FAU major for % alumni placement with 76% of the 2014-2015 cohort receiving Full Time Employment above $25,000.

Per the 2017 State data, MIS students have been hired with the 7th largest full time annual salary among all FAU majors and the second highest salary among the Business majors

Ravi Behara (Professor), ITOM, is a Principal Investigator of 2017 Palm Health Foundation Grant ($50,000) Design of a Learning Community for Elder-Care Services in Palm Beach County. Investigators: Ravi Behara (PI) & Gulcin Gumus (co-PI), College of Business; Lynn Dunphy (Co-PI) College of Nursing.

Ravi Behara, (Professor), Jahyun Goo, (Associate Professor) and Derrick Huang (Associate Professor) from ITOM, are Co-PIs of External Funded $100,000 grant from Florida Department of Education about CARD-Missing Persons with Special Needs Pilot Program: Evaluation of Technology for Search-and-Rescue of Persons with Autism.

Beta Alpha Psi, the international honors organization for accounting, finance and information systems students, notified FAU’s Eta Tau Chapter that it had achieved...
Superior status for the 2017-2018 year.

The School of Accounting ranked third in accounting research productivity among all Florida State University System schools as determined by the Brigham Young University Accounting Rankings index computed for the last 6 years and the last 12 years.

Elizabeth Smith, a 2015 Master of Taxation graduate, was named a 2017 Elijah Watt Sells Award Winner. Of the 95,858 individuals who sat for the Certified Public Accountant examination in 2017, only 58 candidates met the criteria to receive this award, which is based on the scores earned on the CPA examination. Elizabeth is the only graduate of a Florida university to achieve this honor in 2017.

Adams Center for Entrepreneurship

The Adams Center for Entrepreneurship is a key element of the university’s entrepreneurship platform. The center brings students, faculty, staff and the community together in the spirit of entrepreneurship to fuel the innovation needed to create new opportunities in the global marketplace by providing programming, mentoring and engagement opportunities.

Center activities included:

• The 2018 student business plan competition focused on student entrepreneurs and their start-ups. Contestants were required to submit a full business plan to compete. The competition, coordinated by Michele Paredes, involved recruiting about 20 judges and mentors, coordinating a preliminary judging round, a “pitch scrub”, semi-finals competition and the final competition on April 20, 2018. The keynote speaker was Kunal Mehta, author of Disruptors. Kunal has been invited to speak at over 30 accredited universities including Stanford, Harvard, Wharton School of Business and Columbia Business School and has also been invited to speak at TEDx conferences. 50 copies of Disruptors were signed by Kunal during the luncheon sponsored by the Adams Center. More than $17,000 in sponsorship awards were raised and more than $20,000 in team prizes were awarded.

• For the third year in a row the Adams Center was awarded an $85,000 grant from Veterans Florida to execute a Veterans Entrepreneurship Program at FAU. This comprehensive and in-depth project involves considerable marketing, multiple pre-launch events, applicant screening, and a comprehensive semester long advance entrepreneurship training course. This year the program culminated with the graduation truly exceptional participants and a pitch competition held in the College of Business on April 20, 2018. The Adams Center along with several other sponsors raised seed fund prize of $5,000 for the winner. We also hosted a Veteran’s resource fair for the first time this year with numerous community partners that possess resources for veteran entrepreneurs.

• Entrepreneurship boot camp courses were available in the fall and spring semesters taught by Professor Kevin Cox. Three of five finalists in the business plan competition received boot camp training.

• The Entrepreneurship and Residence (EIR) mentoring program to assist students with their start-ups is coordinated by Michele Paredes. 3 new EIR’s were added to the program in 2018 along with several other business consultants/mentors from the local community. Students come to the Adams Center seeking advice on all aspects of entrepreneurship from how to set up a corporation to how to negotiate with investors.

• The Adams Center organized numerous guest speaking engagements in 2017-2018: Janice Haley, founder of Toney bands
The Family Business Initiative included training Roland Kidwell, Director of the Adams Center to be a family business advisor. Developing and funding of research projects related to family business, and continuing outreach efforts to family businesses in South Florida.

The Family Business Initiative included training Roland Kidwell, Director of the Adams Center to be a family business advisor. Developing and funding of research projects related to family business, and continuing outreach efforts to family businesses in South Florida.

The Adams Center has partnered with Client Focused Advisors to create the South Florida version of Shrimp Tank, a national podcast program that features weekly interviews with local entrepreneurs. Please see https://bocaraton.shrimptankpodcast.com/

Center for Forensic Accounting

The Center is one of the first in the country and the only one in Florida to focus on forensic accounting, a field that generally employs a mix of accounting, auditing and investigation to scrutinize financial information and other forms of evidence to provide analysis to courts of law, corporations and others. Its mission is to develop and disseminate knowledge on forensic accounting including fraud detection/prevention and business valuation. Michael Crain, D.B.A., CPA/ABV, ASA, CFA, CFE is the Center’s Director. The Center held its second jointly-sponsored conference with the U.S. Treasury Department on Forensic Accounting and Cyber Investigations. The conference attracted participants from the banking industry, forensic accounting, certified fraud examiners and law enforcement from the federal, state and local levels.

Business and Economics Polling Initiative

The Business and Economics Polling Initiative (BEPI) was launched in August 2014. BEPI conducts surveys on business, economic, political, and social issues, with the main focus on Hispanic attitudes and opinions at the regional, state, and national levels.

Staff
- Monica Escaleras, Director
- Eric Levy, Assistant Director
- Spencer Kimball, Consultant
- Kevin Wagner, Political Spokesperson

Center Activities
Hispanic Americans are the largest ethnic minority group in the United States and they are also one of the most complex. Hispanics in the U.S. trace their roots to a variety of continents and practice a variety of customs. Given the rapid growth of the Hispanic population in the U.S., public interest in Hispanic Americans has been increasing as well. In this effort, the FAU Business and Economics Polling Initiative conducts the Hispanic Poll, a monthly snapshot poll of the opinion of Hispanics throughout the country on a variety of political, social, and cultural topics. In addition, the Initiative publishes a monthly Hispanic Index of Consumer Sentiment, a measure of the nation’s Hispanic economic outlook.

Media Coverage
Press releases had been placed at the International, National and Local media outlets giving significant exposure to FAU.

Total Publicity Value: $3.0 Million
Total Reach: Over 2 billion people

Broadcast: MSNBC, CNN, Espanol, MundoFox, WLRN Radio, Radio Caracol

National and International: Washington Post, Bloomberg Businessweek, MSN Money, Market Watch, Reuters and Yahoo Finanzas, among others

Regional: Tampa Bay Times, Politico, Sunshine State News, Florida Politics, and Suncoast News

Local: SunSentinel, The Palm Beach Post, Miami Herald and South Florida Business Journal, among others.

FAU Center for Economic Education

Staff
- William Bosshardt, Director
- Rupert Rhodd, Associate Director
Center Activities

The FAU Center for Economic Education conducted 18 workshops for approximately 405 participants. The 405 participants is a high water mark for the Center. In addition, the FAU Center has received funding from grants/donations totaling $24,000.

Business Communications Exchange

This committee of Jerry Durbeej, Sarah Nielsen, and Laurie Nesbitt is connecting our faculty with the business community. We had breakfast meetings with our faculty, Dean Gropper, representatives from FAU’s Career Services and Management Dept., and 10 business leaders in fall 2017 and in spring 2018 to discuss skills and attributes employers look for in new hires. We’re using this information to fine-tune our curriculum and are calling on the business contacts to speak in our classrooms and sponsor upcoming competitions.

Future plans include additional meetings and an elevator-pitch competition for undergraduate students; companies represented at our meetings include

- American Traveler
- Northwestern Mutual
- Slavic 401k
- Fastenal
- Integrated Dermatology Group
- Palm Beach School District
- Tommy Bahama
- Federal Bureau of Investigation
- Barton Associates
- Wawa, Inc.
- Progressive
- City of Boca Raton
- Broward County Finance and Administrative Services Dept.
- United Way of Palm Beach County

International Center for Emergency Management (ICEM)

In 2017, FAU’s International Center for Emergency Management (ICEM), now in collaboration with The Chaim Sheba Medical Center in Israel, was established. The ICEM has three main drivers – academics, research and future national training facilities in operations and field hospitals. Our unique collaboration with world-renowned experts and customizable course options ensure the finest, most state-of-the-art and up-to-date training is made available to our students.

Operated via the FAU College of Business, the ICEM is interdisciplinary and in full collaboration with The Schmidt College of Medicine, The Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing, the School of Public Administration, The College of Engineering and Computer Science, and The College of Education. We are fortunate to benefit from the guidance of leaders from many sectors in the industry, as well as Deans and Directors at FAU, the South Florida region’s public safety and emergency management professionals, healthcare and hospital executives, security and national-level FEMA, DHS and NIH experts, and several in the corporate world.

Quality Enhancement Program (QEP) Initiatives

School of Accounting

A typical path for high-achieving undergraduate accounting students is to pursue a master’s degree, obtain professional licensure as a certified public accountant (CPA), and pursue a career in public and/or private accounting. The School of Accounting, in partnership with the Florida Atlantic University Quality Enhancement Plan, Distinction through Discovery, developed a program which provides undergraduate accounting students an opportunity to engage in activities to further their critical thinking, communication and professional research skills.

The program includes four distinct phases introduced over three semesters of study.

- First semester/Phase 1: Provides a greater understanding of the profession and an awareness of the skills essential for professional success.
- Second semester/Phase 2: Requires students to review the professional literature to research basic accounting problems and provide professional reports of their research, analysis, and recommendations.
- Third semester/Phase 3: Introduces new areas of the profession (e.g., tax and audit) and requires the use of additional sources of professional literature.
- Third semester/Phase 4: Includes a capstone case competition, which requires students to work in teams to identify and evaluate possible solutions for an accounting problem for which no clear solution exists. After evaluating the alternatives, students must propose and defend the solution they believe to be the best of the available alternatives, using only professional literature to support their decision. The deliverables are a professional report and an oral presentation to faculty and accounting professionals.

Ravi Behara’s MAN 3506 presented Poster Sessions at FAU Undergraduate Research Symposium
The Department of Marketing continues to remain a leader in QEP activities, including mentoring multiple undergraduate research projects, offering research-intensive courses, and receiving OURI curriculum revision grants to improve courses.

Allen Smith (Associate Professor) Marketing served as faculty mentor for three undergraduate research projects presented at the 8th Annual FAU Undergraduate Research Symposium:

  - FIRST PLACE – Poster Presentation, Business, Marketing, Finance, and Public Administration
  - FIRST PLACE – Poster Presentation, Business, Marketing, Finance, and Public Administration

Allen Smith – COB Liaison to the Office of Undergraduate Research and Inquiry, 2017; Member, Undergraduate Research Curriculum Committee, 2017

C.M. Sashi – Recipient of OURI Curriculum Grant to design a research-intensive course in Retail Management, 2018

Allen Smith – Recipient of OURI Curriculum Grant to design a research assignment for course in Introduction to Advertising, 2017-2018

Gopalkrishnan Iyer, Cheryl Burke Jarvis, Paul Koku, C.M. Sashi, and Allen Smith served as judges for the 8th Annual FAU Undergraduate Research Symposium, 2018

Business and Economics Polling Initiative

The Business and Economics Polling Initiative (BEPI) was launched in August 2014. BEPI conducts surveys on business, economic, political, and social issues, with the main focus on Hispanic attitudes and opinions at the regional, state, and national levels.

Results of polls, in which students have been involved, have been featured at the International, National and Local level giving a significant exposure to the College of Business as well as the University. At the International and National level BEPI’s press releases had been featured at Bloomberg Businessweek, MSN money, Market Watch, Reuters, CNN Espanol, MundoFox and Yahoo Finanzas among others. At the local level the press releases had been published in SunSentinel, The Palm Beach Post, Miami Herald, South Florida Business Journal, and WLRN Radio among others.

Staff:

Monica Escaleras, Director
Eric Levy, Assistant Director
Spencer Kimball, Consultant
Kevin Wagner, Political Spokesperson
Center Activities:

Hispanic Americans are the largest ethnic minority group in the United States and they are also one of the most complex. Hispanics in the U.S. trace their roots to a variety of continents and practice a variety of customs. Given the rapid growth of the Hispanic population in the U.S., public interest in Hispanic Americans has been increasing as well. In this effort, the FAU Business and Economics Polling Initiative conducts the Hispanic Poll, a monthly snapshot poll of the opinion of Hispanics throughout the country on a variety of political, social, and cultural topics. In addition, the Initiative publishes a monthly Hispanic Index of Consumer Sentiment, a measure of the nation’s Hispanic economic outlook.

Media Coverage:

Press releases had been placed at the International, National and Local media outlets giving significant exposure to FAU.

Total Publicity Value: $3.0 Million

Total Reach: Over 2 billion people

Broadcast: MSNBC, CNN, Espanol, MundoFox, WLRN Radio, and radio Caracol
National and International: Washington Post, Bloomberg Businessweek, MSN Money, Market Watch, Reuters and Yahoo Finanzas among others.
Local: SunSentinel, The Palm Beach Post, Miami Herald and South Florida Business Journal, among others.

Staff:
William Bosshardt, director, coordinator of all annual activities of the center
Rupert Rhode, associate director, judging for student contest

Center Activities:
The FAU Center for Economic Education conducted 18 workshops for approximately 405 participants. The table below shows the dates and attendance of the programs. The 405 participants is a high water mark for the Center. In addition, the FAU Center has received funding from grants to develop behavioral economics curriculum for $24,000.

Pauline Chin received Undergraduate Research/ QEP Award for Fall 2016 and Spring 2017. She also Implemented QEP in the ISM4133 Curriculum to include Undergraduate Research Project

Karen Dye Received a New Assignment level grant from the Distinction through Discovery Undergraduate Curriculum Grants Program to develop a research and inquiry assignment for MAN 4597, Global Supply Chain Management.
Allen Smith serves as the College of Business Liaison and Coordinator for QEP/OURI Engagement. In this role he supervised four freshman teams in developing their research projects through co-curricular efforts, and five freshmen had their research projects presented at the university competition, where his student Henry June won 2nd place.

Business Communications - Teaching and Engagement and Teaching Productivity

The Business Communications Program (BCP) does not confer degrees, but it supports other College of Business Departments in reaching their goals of preparing their students to communicate effectively in their fields. The number of students in BCP courses during this academic year increased by 98 students from last year although its total full-time and adjunct faculty did not increase. The increase came primarily from 26 additional graduate students and 72 additional undergraduate students. Our faculty increased by only 1 adjunct.

Student Academic Services

Mission Statement

The mission of Student Academic Services at FAU’s College of Business is to provide academic advising that empowers our students to make informed choices about their education. Through curriculum planning, we help students maintain continuous progress toward a timely graduation and the achievement of their academic goals. We support our students by informing them of university policies and procedures and of the resources available to support their success. We encourage our students to take advantage of opportunities both inside and outside the classroom that are consistent with their personal ambitions.

Annual Report

In the Office of Student Academic Services we work together as a team to provide each student with the necessary information to obtain their goal of graduating with a degree from the College of Business at FAU. We also work individually on special projects and assignments that ultimately benefit our current students as well as our future students. Rebecca Green retired after 26 years at Florida Atlantic University and Kimberley Paulus was appointed the director to replace her.

College of Business Website Updates

All program changes are tracked and the website is updated by an advisor. The advisor also reviews the minutes from the UUPC and disseminates this information to all advisors to update information sheets, handouts and student orientation documents.

Project Graduation

Student Academic Services work together with Dr. Ed Pratt on various graduation projects. The projects require advisors to contact students, currently active or in-active, either by phone or email to discuss their remaining courses and the reason they have not completed them. Students that were very close to graduation were asked to create a plan of action to graduate.

Career Development and Internships

With Lauren Shalom being the only person in the Career and Internship Division, it is amazing to note that the number of students that were placed in internship still increased by 5% between 2016 (503) and 2017 (529). The Academic Advising Department is hoping to increase the number of staff offering career and advising services by 3 in 2018. The Career Division in the College of Business continued to work directly with employers to coordinate employment opportunities, internships, class speakers and recruitment activities.

Advising Activity

In 2017, the average advising count per undergraduate advisor was around 820 appointments for the two semesters. With regards to the quality of advising, our survey indicates that students were mostly satisfied with the quality of the advising that they received. Graduate Advisors have an average of about 100 appointments per person per semester. It is difficult to keep track of Graduate Advising appointments because of the large number of telephone advising, and also because Graduate Advising do not make notes using Starfish.
Executive Education – Non Credit Certificate Programs

The Florida Atlantic University – College of Business offers non-credit open-enrollment courses for professionals who want to master their management skills and advance their careers in today’s competitive marketplace. Business Communications - Teaching-related Engagement (serving as support for FAU activities)

Laurie Nesbitt and Emily Sacks represent our program for undergrad and grad assessment, respectively, on the Assurance of Learning committee. In the 17-18 academic year, they piloted a plan to assess learning at the program level, which, will provide constructive assistance when program-level assessments are instituted throughout the COB degree programs. Also, when we add indirect measures, their work will help us improve in AACSB Standard 8: Curricula Management and Assurance of Learning.

Laurie Nesbitt assists the Accounting Scholars Program by training the GAs to work with students, offering workshops, and helping prepare the Learning Compacts.

- Nominated for top student organization of the year at FAU

A newly formed chapter of the Upsilon Phi Delta (UPD) Honor Society held its inaugural induction ceremony and networking event with south Florida healthcare executive leaders this spring. Hosted by the Christine E. Lynn Women’s Health and Wellness Institute at Boca Raton Regional Hospital, top undergraduate and graduate students along with equally qualified alumni were initiated into this national
The student-run FAU chapter is advised by faculty members Alan Whiteman and Jennifer Attonito.

The student entrepreneurship club (Owls, Inc.) continued to grow in 2017-2018 due in large part to its president Maria Neira, who was honored at the 2018 student Adams Center Business Plan Competition for Outstanding Contributions to Entrepreneurship at FAU.

The Global Business Association (international business student club) hosted several guest speakers and engaged in a variety of other activities thanks to the leadership of sophomore Neasha Prince. As president of the GBA, she has engaged other students to achieve a great deal in a short time. Len Trevino and David Herst serve as advisors for the Global Business Association.

FAU Student Mentorship Program

Stella Quintero, Instructor in the Hospitality & Tourism Management program served as a mentor for fall, 2016 to students with special academic needs. They meet 2 times per month and Stella provides guidance and support to students interested in majoring in hospitality management or any business discipline.

Freshmen Learning Communities (FLCs)

Peter Ricci serves as the unofficial liaison for all freshmen learning community activities between the college of business and the CLASS (Center for Learning and Student Success) office. Additionally, he teaches his own section of the pre-business freshmen learning community every fall semester and led one of these in fall, 2015. The SPOT results and academic rigor were identical to his other courses; even at the freshmen level he instills rigor at the level expected of a business student while simultaneously giving great encouragement and support to succeed in our business college.
