

FAU Business News

// September 2020

Best Undergraduate Business: U.S. News & World Report

Undergraduate programs at FAU Business have been ranked by U.S. News & World Report.

International Business Program Improves in U.S. News Top 25 Ranking

FAU's International Business (IB) undergraduate program in the College of Business moved up three spots to No. 22 in the latest U.S. News & World Report national rankings. More >

FAU Polling: Trump Gains on Biden in Florida, Making Battleground State a Dead Heat

After falling behind Democratic nominee Joe Biden in May, U.S. President Donald Trump has surged back into a virtual dead heat in the battleground Sunshine State, according to a statewide survey of registered Florida voters by the FAU Business and Economics Polling Initiative (FAU BEPI). More >

Study: Tepid Home Prices May Reflect Waning Interest in New York City

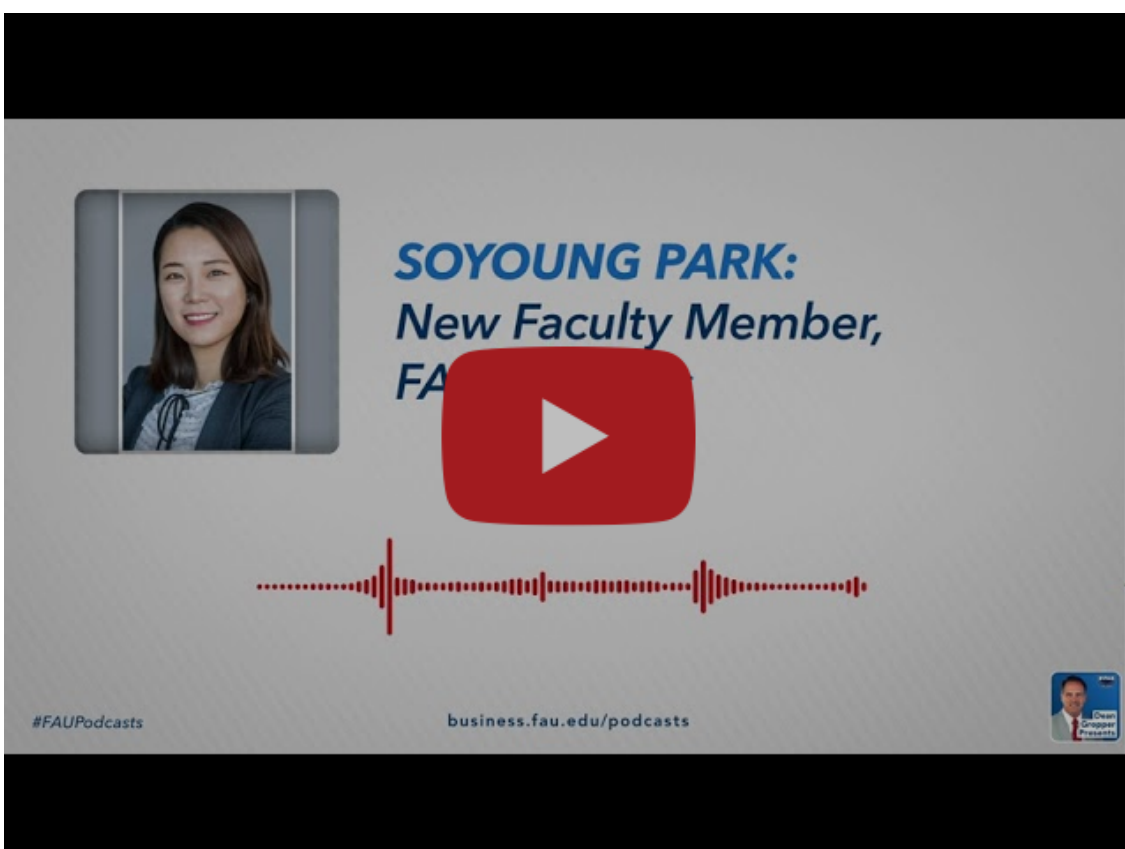

Is living in the New York metropolitan area losing its appeal? It's entirely possible, say researchers at Florida Atlantic and Florida International universities who have studied more than 40 years of repeat home sales transactions. More >

FAU Students Brainstorming Ideas for Entrepreneurs Hurt by Pandemic

Companies affected by the coronavirus pandemic will get a boost this fall from students in FAU's College of Business. More >

Welcoming Our New Faculty

Soyoung Park joins FAU as an Assistant Professor in the Hospitality and Tourism Program at the College of Business. More New Faculty >

